WELCOME TO THE
FINIAL FARM DUAL PURPOSE SHORTHORN SALE

December 13, 1975 12:00 noon SCT

Horse Palace Garden City, Kansas

The Shorthorn cattle have been good to us. We have gained a wealth of friendship from the people who share such interests in this breed of cattle. Milking Shorthorn secretary Harry Clampitt has stated there is not so much difference in our cattle as there is in the people who breed them. True. But, we have enjoyed the different kinds of Shorthorn breeders too.

The cattle selling are all sound, well bred cattle that will do a lot of good in most any Dual Purpose, beef Shorthorn or Milking Shorthorn herd. There are cattle here to improve the better registered herds and also cattle that should replace some of the lower end of your cattle at home.

We have participated in many of the breed improvement programs. Some of the cattle have been classified for type, some have official gain records and nearly all have been weighed for our personal information. The scales are the most important tool a cattleman has, whether it is weighing milk or red meat.

You can buy these cattle with confidence that they are going to make you a profit. Most knowledgeable economist agree with the tremendous cow slaughters numbers in recent months there is a definite brighter future for the cow herd owner. It is our firm belief that these same cattle selling today will be worth from $100 to $500 per head more within 18 months. Plus the fact you are going to be raising some good calves in the mean time.

We will be looking for you December 13 come rain or shine. Come to visit with your firends if you can't come to buy.

The folks from finial farm

We selected Cornhusker as a baby calf. He has done everything we had hoped for. He is truly a Dual Purpose bull!

His Calves are healthy when they hit the ground. They get up nursing and eating. They grow well. His calves have good conformation. Good muscling, size and scale. They are good doers from start to finish. Speaking of finish. . . look at his steer son that we have ready for the locker! You want good finishing cattle? Look at these Cornhuskers.

Cornhusker himself was Reserve Junior Champion at the 1970 State Fair. At the 1975 State Fair his Sr Get of Sire stood 2nd and Junior Get 3rd. He sired the Res Grand Champion bull and the Jr Champion female. He sired the Reserve Junior Champion at the 1974 fair.

Cornhusker cattle have been sold to a number of herds for foundation dual purpose cattle. His sons have gone into both purebred and commercial herds without outstanding results.

Semen is frozen and on storage at KABSU. He is blood typed.

In our opinion, this bull can do a tremendous amount of good in most any top quality herd. He can be used in either a beef or milking herd.

"Big John" is almost a part of the finial family. We selected his dam Red Rose as a dual purpose cow everyone would like to own. A cow like our Grandad had years ago. Good size, about 1100 lbs, excellent disposition, always a good appetite and a wonderful brook cow, plus longevity.

When Old Red dropped a bull calf by Pure Pimpernel on our son's birthday we called him "Big John".

Look at his daughters! Good working cows. Good disposition, good size and the desire to be good mama cows. Big John sons have been popular with the commercial cattlemen too.

At eight years of age he still will settle more cows quicker than most any other bull up and down the road. Never have we known a bull who did so little work and settle so many cows!!! We have not used Big John for nearly a year, but let him stand and look for a week and we will bet he will breed all the cows you can line up!

p.s. Just as the catalog goes to the printers we are breeding a problem cow to Big John. When all else fails, turn them in with Big John.

Fee is one of those good dual purpose cows you would be proud to have in your herd. A good brood cow with plenty of milk to feed the family and a couple calves too. She is a maternal sister to Favorite Lot 6.

She is the dam of Foundation and Fullbrother a couple of bulls we think are representative of the Shorthorn breed.

The calf she is carrying is a full sister to these two bulls?

Foundation: This two year old bull could be one of the better dual purpose bulls coming into the breed. He is truly dual purposed! Good muscling, size and scale to combine it all together. He was 3rd Summer Calf at 1974 Kansas State Fair behind two Garham bulls. Then was Champion Calf at Tri States Fair in Amarillo.

We have great faith in this bull. Look at the number of head we have bred to him. Calves are just starting to hit the ground. They look good!

There are lots of "name" herds across the country that could improve their '76 calf crop with this bull!
